Excerpt: . chapter vi. progress of the gospel Public interest awakened. Our narrative has brought us to an era of marked success, and in view of it I cannot but allude to the thankful expression so often repeated in the 107th psalm: O that men would praise the Lord, for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men. This era was connected, as was remarked, with the hopeful conversion of Kaahumanu, the Queen Regent of the islands, and her public profession of religion; which latter event took place in the year 1825.--So great was the change in Kaahumanu, from a haughty and stern behavior to that of mildness and love, that she soon acquired among the people the appellation of the new Kaahumanu. It has been seen that previous to the change in Kaahumanu, a number of the subordinate chiefs, and a few of the common people, had given evidence of turning to the Lord. Some of this number, Kalanimoku, Piia and others, united with the church at the same time with Kaahumanu. Very soon, as might be expected, public interest was awakened. Other chiefs and the mass of the people, began to consider the claims of the gospel. The tide turned rapidly in favor of Christianity, and soon became a strong and broad current. Public sentiment became entirely changed, and the christian religion was received with very great favor. Missionaries, the pioneers and the first reinforcement, had become familiar...
