Heart and Craft Press, United States, 2013. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 203 x 127 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .A chilehead from childhood, Sharon Lippincott is hooked on all forms of life writing. She loves sharing discoveries with others. She teaches classes and workshops on basic memoir and lifestory writing as well as specific skills like writing vivid description in the Pittsburgh area and online. Her book, The Heart and Craft of Lifestory Writing gives complete guidelines from starry-eyed idea to publication for lifestory projects, and her award-winning blog, The Heart and Craft of Life Writing, has provided guidance for hundreds of thousands of visitors from all over the world. She serves on the Advisory Board of the National Association of Memoir Writers and mentors memoir groups in Allegheny County libraries and around the country. Readers say I can t tell you what a joy Adventures of a Chilehead was to read. I became so involved with the story that I couldn t put it down. Sharon Lippincott s marvelous way with words conveys feelings that draw readers in. (Katy Brown, Fellow Chilehead) It s not often you can get good entertainment and good food in one slim volume, but these adventures really tickle the taste buds whilst making you split your sides with mirth. This delightful little book had me laughing out loud so often I just had to try some of the recipes it offers. Finding unfamiliar ingredients in England made this an adventure in itself and, even though I m not great as a cook, the taste was every bit as good as the words that inspired it onto my plate. (Ian Mathie, author of Bride Price and other African Memoirs) A lovely collection of sweet, funny, quaint, readable stories. If...
