Oxford University Press, United Kingdom, 1993. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 1994 ed.. 210 x 136 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.The third volume of this successful Series brings together studies of particular relevance to the care provided by midwives for childbearing women and their families. midwifery research is essential for sound practice and is of importance as a basis for education and management. Topics in this volume include: care during pregnancy, labour and delivery, and the post natal period midwifery education midwives responsibilities midwives careers. The maternity services continue to be in the public eye in the UK and the West. Debate on consumer satisfaction with the experience of pregnancy and childbirth and perinatal mortality is increasing. This Series is intended primarily for midwives but it will be of interest to other health professionals involved in the provision of maternity care and members of social science disciplines concerned with women's health. Sarah Robinson is Senior Research Fellow, Nursing Research Unit, King's College, London, England. Ann M Thomson is Senior Lecturer in Midwifery, School of Nursing Studies, University of Manchester and Director, Health Care Research Unit, Stockport, Tameside Glossop College of Nursing, England.
